

San Francisco Chronicle

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA'S LARGEST NEWSPAPER

SUNDAY, JULY 19, 2009

Section N - 1

By Carlyne Zinko

Marilyn Monroe and Joe DiMaggio share a newlywed kiss.

-- Half the modern art crowd was at the Legion of Honor's John Baldessari gala opening July 9, courtesy of private collector Jordan Schnitzer, and the other half was at Modernism Inc., where former Fine Arts Museums curator Robert Flynn Johnson was signing "Hunted & Gathered," a coffee-table book with photos from his 2,500-piece collection. Gallerist Martin Muller selected the best to sell, from "delicious voyeurism" to surrealism to personalities, like Marilyn Monroe and Joe DiMaggio sharing a newlywed kiss. Missing was the pic of the slugger in the nude, fresh from the locker room shower. "The publisher censored it," said Johnson. Insouciant Muller made sure copies of DiMaggio in the buff were tucked into every book.